We are excited to present this Guide to Morehead State University. We hope that you will find the information useful regarding MSU and the Morehead community.

Family support is important to college students. In this Guide, we have included a “Frequently Asked Questions” section that will provide valuable information you can use to assist your student throughout the year.

Morehead State University strives to keep families informed of university news and events. Special family initiatives at MSU include:

- Special family session at SOAR
- Camp Eagle at SOAR for siblings
- Parent Guide
- Family Dinner at New Student Days
- Family Weekend
- MSU “Statement” magazine mailed to families three times per year

We encourage you to participate in Family Weekend, September 23-15, 2011. You will receive information on Family Weekend in August.

If you have any questions or are unsure of who to call for information, don’t hesitate to call the Office of First Year Programs and Academic Services at (606) 783-5208.

Sincerely,

Lora Pace, Director
Office of First Year Programs and Academic Services ■

Frequently Asked Questions

ACADEMICS

What if my student has not selected a major?

It’s ok to be undecided but students are encouraged to declare a major by their sophomore year. Students that are undecided should take general education courses in areas of interest. Faculty and academic advisors are great resources for career information.

Undeclared students are advised by professional staff advisors in the Office of First Year Programs and Academic Services. We also offer the “Exploratory Program” which assists students in identifying their area of academic interest.

Does it take four or five years to get a college degree?

It depends. Students must earn a minimum of 120 credit hours to get a bachelor’s degree. If students prolong selecting a major, extra time may be needed to earn a bachelor’s degree.

What is a “syllabus”?

A syllabus is a document provided by professors at the beginning of each semester outlining the main topics and requirements for the course. Each student will receive a syllabus on the first day of class.

Is class attendance mandatory?

It depends on the professor. Some professors take attendance at each class meeting and have an attendance policy that is calculated in the final grade. Most first year classes have an attendance policy. However, some professors do not take attendance or have a class attendance policy. Students should consult their course syllabus for any attendance requirements.

What should my student do if they have to miss a class because of illness or an emergency?

Students need to contact their professors immediately either by phone or e-mail and apprise their professor of his/her illness or emergency. Your student should also request any missed work or assignments.

If your student has to be out for a prolonged illness, enrollment options need to be discussed with their professors and academic advisor. Students miss course content when they are not in class.

How many credit hours should a student take each semester?

To be classified as full-time, a student must enroll for at least 12 credit hours in a regular semester and four credit hours in a summer term. Most first year students take 15 or 16 credit hours per semester.

What is an Undergraduate Catalog?

The Undergraduate Catalog is the official source of information about Morehead State University’s academic programs. Its purpose is to guide students in planning a course of study to meet program, department, and University requirements. The Undergraduate Catalog can be found online at www.moreheadstate.edu/catalog. ▶

What if my student is having trouble in a class?

Urge your student to talk with his/her professor. Professors will often help students with tips on how to study and prepare for their tests. Students can also talk to their academic advisor. MSU offers free tutoring at the Tutoring and Learning Center on the second floor of Allie Young.

Can my student drop or add a class?

Students can add and drop classes within the designated time frame outlined in the Academic Calendar. Students should consult with their academic advisor before dropping or adding a course. After classes begin, there will be a fee to drop or add classes.

In addition to their academic advisor, students should talk to their financial aid counselor before dropping a class. Class load can affect a student's financial aid status. If your student is a NCAA athlete, he/she needs to consult with the Compliance Officer.

Can students repeat courses?

Undergraduate students are permitted to repeat any course regardless of the grade received. Only the grade received on the last attempt is computed in the overall GPA. This practice applies to MSU and is not necessarily the way other institutions might compute the cumulative GPA upon transfer. Students wishing to repeat courses must file a Repeat of Course Option with the Registrar's Office at the time of enrollment in the course to be repeated.

Will I receive my student's grades?

No. Hard copy grades are not mailed to the student. Students may access their mid-term and final grades on their Web Advisor account.

What do each of the letter grades mean?

A – Excellent
 B – Good
 C – Average
 D – Below average
 E – Failure
 I – Incomplete
 IP – In Progress
 U – Unofficial withdrawal – student did not attend class or stopped attending, computed as zero quality points in GPA
 W – Withdrew officially – Not computed in GPA

FINANCES

Important Tuition and Payment Plan information is located in the SOAR Guide and online at www.moreheadstate.edu/abc.

If my student has to withdraw from MSU, will I get a full refund?

Refund rates are based upon the date of withdrawal. The Academic Calendar located in this Guide and online indicates the refund dates.

When should a student apply for financial aid?

Students must reapply for financial aid each year. Our priority deadline for receiving the results of a student's application for financial aid (FAFSA) is March 15. Students may apply after the priority deadline date, but may not be able to receive funds from the programs for which they apply if funds are exhausted. Deadline filing dates are designed to inform the student when to apply for financial aid and to assist the financial aid staff in processing applications. Applying before the deadline increases the student's chances of receiving the aid requested. Funds are limited in many programs, so those students applying early will get priority consideration for available funds.

What type of employment opportunities are there for students?

At Morehead State University, students work in a variety of offices and departments with their work scheduled around their academic schedules.

The student may be eligible for a Federal Work Study if they are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States, have demonstrated need as determined by an approved need analysis system and maintained satisfactory academic progress.

The Institutional Work Study Program is a university sponsored student aid program designed to meet the part-time employment needs of the student. A limited number of Institutional Work Study positions are available to students who have specific skills or talents.

Note: All new student employees must consent to a background check. Employment is contingent upon the completion of a background investigation satisfactory to the university. ►

What if my financial situation changes during the academic year?

Students should contact their financial aid counselor. Professional judgment can be made in some documented circumstances by reviewing the current year financial information.

HOUSING

Do students have to reapply for housing each year?

They do not have to fill out an application, but they must participate in the housing room reservation process which takes place during the spring semester. Students will be notified of the process by the Housing staff.

What should my student do if s/he is unhappy with a roommate?

The student should first talk to his/her roommate and try to resolve any conflicts as soon as they arise. If conflicts cannot be worked out, the student should talk to his/her RA and/or Student Life Coordinator.

Can students decorate their rooms?

Students are encouraged to decorate their rooms with posters, family pictures, and other personal items as outlined by the residence hall staff. Students may not paint rooms or use nails, or other items that cause damage, to affix items to the walls.

What type of staff work in the residence halls?

Each hall has a staff of Resident Advisors (RAs) and a Student Director (SD) or Student Life Coordinator (SLC). RAs and SDs are students that have met a high level of academic and social criteria. They undergo a rigorous training period in August and January. An SLC is a professional full-time staff member who resides in the hall.

Students who live in apartments and year-round housing facilities may remain on campus during breaks. With the exception of buildings designated for year-round housing, residence halls will close during Thanksgiving, Holiday, and Spring Break. Other students needing accommodations during those break periods must contact the Housing Office prior to the time they need to stay on campus.

Are there curfews for residential students?

No. Students do not have a curfew.

Should students carry personal property insurance to cover loss, theft, fire or other damage to personal property?

Students are encouraged to have

COMMUTER STUDENTS

My student is commuting from home. What do you recommend my student do to feel like a part of MSU?

They should get to know other students in their classes and get involved in a student activity. We offer more than 100 student organizations.

Where does my student park?

There are parking lots designated for commuter students. When your student purchases their parking pass, they will receive a handbook that outlines the commuter parking areas. Shuttle buses run from the by-pass parking lot throughout the day.

Can my student bring a car to campus?

Yes. Students may purchase their parking tag at the beginning of the school year in August at the MSU Police Department. Parking areas for students are outlined in the parking handbook they receive with their parking tag.

Where can I park if I want to visit campus?

Students may pick-up guest parking tags at the Morehead State Police Department in Laughlin. ▶ some form of insurance coverage for personal property. MSU will provide information on personal property and fire protection insurance upon check-in in August. It is optional to carry a policy. Some homeowners' policies will cover personal property protection at school. To be on the safe side, students should always lock their room doors, and make appropriate arrangements to protect valuables. A student, who has something lost or stolen, should notify his/her Student Life Coordinator and the University Police Department. MSU makes a reasonable effort to help protect private property but cannot be responsible for its loss, theft, or damage. Precautions students can take are engraving property so it can be identified if stolen, and maintaining an accurate record of serial numbers for equipment such as computers, televisions, DVD players, video games, etc.

How can I send my student a letter or package on campus?

When students check into residence halls, they will receive a residence hall mailbox (usually the same number as their rooms). The Morehead City Post Office delivers mail each day to residential facilities. The mail is placed in mailboxes by residence hall staff.

Mail should be addressed as follows:

Name _____ Hall
 Room No. _____ (or box)
 Morehead, KY 40351

Where does a student go for counseling?

The Counseling Center is located in Allie Young on the 1st floor adjacent to the Caudill Health Clinic. The Center is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

What services are available for minority students?

The Office of Multicultural Student Services provides a wide range of support services, programs and activities aimed at the academic, cultural, social, emotional, and professional development of undergraduate minority students. Services provided by MSS include academic, social, and cultural programming. MSS is located in ADUC 211.

The Minority Retention Coordinator serves as an academic resource for minority students and is located in Allie Young 321.

Where can students with disabilities go for assistance?

The Disability Services office in ADUC 204-E assists students who have physical, psychological, or learning disabilities who may qualify for accommodations at the University. All services, including the Personal Coaching program, are provided at no charge. For information about documentation requirements or to set a confidential intake appointment, please call (606) 783-5188 or visit our website at www.moreheadstate.edu/disability.

Where can students go for assistance concerning employment during the summer breaks or upon graduation?

Students can visit the Career Service Center for assistance. Individual career counseling, career workshops, career classes, and on-campus recruitment are available to all MSU students. ►

STUDENT SERVICES

What health care services are available on campus?

The Caudill Health Clinic, located in Allie Young 1st floor, is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Services are comparable to those of your family physician.

Make sure your student has a health history form on file. If a student is under the age of 18, he/she needs a parent signature for permission to treat.

What if my student needs medical assistance after hours or on the weekend?

Patients with emergencies that are life threatening should go directly to St. Claire Regional Medical Center's Emergency Room (24 hours a day) where treatment will be rendered. St. Claire Regional Medical Center is a modern, multi-service hospital, located a few blocks west of the main campus of Morehead State University. Follow-up care, if desired, may be provided by CHC. Students needing immediate emergency medical transportation can call the Morehead/Rowan County ambulance service at 911. Students using this service are responsible for payment.

What if my student is on medication?

Students should continue prescribed medication when they go to college. This information should be provided on the health history form. All medication should be in probably labeled containers. In addition to providing prescriptions for newly diagnosed problems, the Caudill Health Clinic staff will work with patients to monitor the maintenance medications brought from home. If a student is receiving allergy injections, the storage and administration of the medication can be continued at the clinic.

The Career Services Web page has a resource page for parents at www.moreheadstate.edu/career.

How will my student know which books to buy?

Students need to take their course schedule with them when they visit the bookstore or order books online. Books are labeled by subject and course number at the University Bookstore. Books are easy to find, but staff assistants are always available to help students.

When does the student receive their EagleCard?

All students who have their photo taken during SOAR will be notified when and where to pick up their EagleCard ID.

Students living on campus will receive their EagleCard when they check into their pre-assigned residence hall. All other students, such as commuters, will pick up their EagleCards during scheduled times at the EagleCard Office located in ADUC 107. Please visit the EagleCard web site prior to New Student Days for more detail on dates and times.

What should a student do if they lose their EagleCard?

If a student's EagleCard has been lost or stolen, they need to deactivate account access immediately by logging onto EagleCard ONLINE. Students can go into their mymoreheadstate portal and select the EagleCard ONLINE link under the services tab. Once there, log in by using the same credentials used for the portal. Students may also contact the EagleCard office at (606) 783-2701. This will help protect their meals, flex and BeakerBUCKs accounts. Housing access can be deactivated by contacting the Office of Student Housing, (606) 783-2060. After business hours and on the weekends, students should contact their hall staff. Lost or stolen cards need to be immediately reported to the University Police.

How can I add money to my student's EagleCard?

We have made it easy for parents/guardians to add BeakerBUCKs to their student's account. Just go to the EagleCard ONLINE web page and click the link "Add Cash Now". All you will need is your students MSU ID # and a valid credit card. The funds will be available immediately. Students may grant additional access to their account for up to four people to view a six-month transaction history, balances, plus more. ■

Tips for Parents

Encourage independence, but offer support.

Avoid doing everything for your student and solving every problem. If your student turns to you because they have a problem, talk with them about how they can solve the problem.

Send care packages!

Even in today's world of e-mail, text messaging, instant messaging – students love to get packages and letters via snail mail!

First year students do not always manage their money well.

Check in with them toward the end of the semester and make sure they still have money and meals on their food plan.

Talk to your students about credit card debt.

Credit card debt among college students is on the rise! MSU bans credit card solicitations on-campus, but students can get a credit card via the Internet or mail solicitation.

Your student may experience homesickness in their first days on campus.

Most homesickness will go away within the first couple of weeks. Try to get your student to wait it out and get involved on campus. Plan a trip to campus for a family visit.

Discuss the first visits home.

There are no curfews in college. Students may get used to staying up later and congregating with friends later. Discuss home expectations in advance.

Don't panic if you have not heard from your student in a few days.

Students get very busy and sometimes put family communication on the back burner.

Do not call professors to negotiate class assignments and/or grades.

The only reason you should ever contact a professor is if your student gets sick or faces an emergency and will not be in class. Your student should make the call if at all possible.

Be careful about immediately converting your student's bedroom to the exercise room you always wanted.

Let them know what is going on and allow them to voice their opinions. Do not surprise them! ■

The EagleCard is the official photo ID of Morehead State University.

Your student can use the EagleCard to access their meal plan, BeakerBUCKs and U.S. Bank checking account.

What is FERPA?

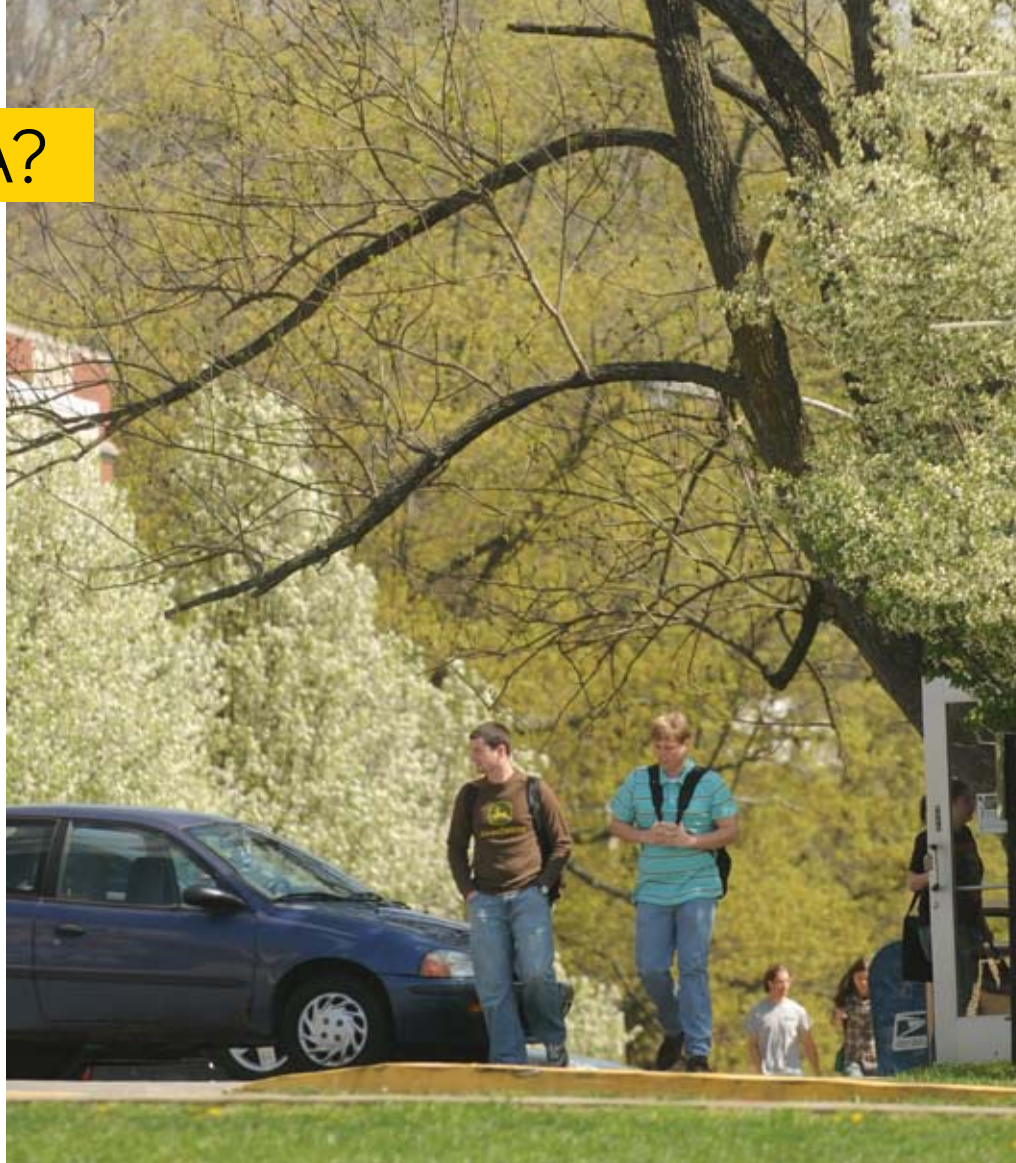

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-380), as amended, (commonly known as the Buckley Amendment) is a federal law that requires universities to maintain the confidentiality of student education records.

The law basically says that no one except employees of the institution with a professional need shall have access to students' education records. Except for limited exemptions, the institution may not disclose any information from those records without the written consent of students. Schools are required by FERPA to provide a student with an opportunity to inspect and review his or her educational records upon requests.

Directory information may be available for release to the public by the University. However, the Act states that each student has the right to inform MSU that directory information may not be released. MSU will place a "Buckley Flag" on the student's record to honor the request to restrict the release of directory information. MSU students may select "confidential directory information" by contacting the Office of the Vice President for Student Life and completing the necessary form. This release restriction will become part of the student's record. When a Buckley Flag is placed on the record, no information will be released without the written consent of the student.

What access do parents have to their student's records?

At the postsecondary level, parents have no inherent rights to inspect a student's education records, even if they are supporting the student financially and even if the student is under 18. However, the educational record may be disclosed to the parent of the student without the written consent of the student provided the student is under 21 and the parent has claimed that student on his or her most recent income tax return. Proof of dependency filing is required. ■

Emergency Information

MSU has a longstanding tradition of emergency preparedness and a commitment to safety. Morehead State University's Police Department has been recognized by StateUniversity.com as ranking first in Kentucky for Highest Safety Rating.

The University's police department, student life staff, and counselors work with community agencies on an annual basis to review emergency preparedness plans. The Emergency Resources Web site, www.moreheadstate.edu/emergency, is designed to relay information about emergency preparedness, communication and operating plans, and other policies and procedures related to safety at MSU.

In the event of an emergency (including weather and safety alerts), Morehead State University will utilize a number of communication tools and strategies. Depending upon the nature of the announcement, any or all of the following methods may be used:

- Text messaging and e-mail alert system (e2Campus); sign up is voluntary but is strongly recommended at www.moreheadstate.edu/e2campus
- Mass campus e-mail – it is critical that students check their MSU email account on a regular basis
- Campus-wide voicemail
- Posting on University Web site and portals
- Radio, TV, and other media outlets, including Morehead State Public Radio
- Campus TV override

announcements

- Digital informational system/digital signs
- Posted printed notices in residence halls and in administrative/academic buildings.

MSU Police Department

MSU has a fully accredited police department open 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The department has 16 sworn police officers who have county-wide jurisdiction. These 16 police officers together have over 125 years of police experience. Dispatchers in the Communications Unit are fully trained and certified by the Kentucky Department of Criminal Justice Training.

e2Campus

Students and parents should sign up for e2Campus at www.moreheadstate.edu/e2campus to receive alerts for weather, safety, and special events. Alerts may be sent by e-mail and mobile phone by text message. Some carriers may charge for text messages.

Early Intervention System

Morehead State University is committed to maximizing student success and retention. The Early Intervention System (EIS) has been created to identify those students experiencing problems at MSU.

If you have a concern that a student may be experiencing personal, social, or academic difficulties, contact EIS. A trained staff member will contact the student in an effort to provide support and make appropriate referrals to University professional staff members or campus agencies.

Inclement Weather Plan

As the winter months generally bring unpredictable weather patterns, Morehead State University has established a policy for announcing delays and cancellations.

When the normal hours of operation are interrupted, a bulletin broadcast review message will be placed on the University's voice messaging system, as well as the (606) 783-INFO (4636) number. In the event of a weather emergency, an alert button will be activated on the University's homepage at www.moreheadstate.edu. Information also will be provided to Morehead State Public Radio (90.3 FM; 88.3 FM WOCS, Leroser/Booneville; W202BH, 88.3 FM, Inez), the University's public radio network, and other radio and television stations in the area.

For additional information, consult the Emergency Resources web site, www.moreheadstate.edu/emergency or contact one of the MSU offices below.
