Welcome to OCU!

Dear Parents and Families,

The ideal university for your student is one that will recognize each person as an individual and nurture his or her personality, dreams, talents, and career goals. It also should be a place that will influence its students well beyond the classroom, feed their minds, nourish their souls, and send them out into the world truly ready to be active, thoughtful, engaged members of society.

Students at Oklahoma City University are unique. They are active in the campus community and dedicated to following their dreams. National surveys show that they watch a little less television than their peers across the nation and work a little more — a trait we are proud of!

Six years ago, before I became president of Oklahoma City University, my son Joshua began the process of choosing his university. My wife Jan and I could not have been more pleased when Josh chose to attend OCU. With this university’s great faculty and campus-wide tradition of support for all students, we were confident that the education and experience our son would have at OCU would be exceptional. And we have been proven right!

So on both personal and professional levels, I invite you to give Oklahoma City University a serious review. We understand that selecting a college is a family affair, and we welcome you to visit our campus and learn who we are. I am confident that you will be impressed by our commitment to caring for your sons and daughters as they prepare for their entry into the world as graduates, ready to enter their chosen fields with confidence, poise, and integrity.

Welcome!

Robert Henry
President and CEO

Using Your Parent Guide

Parents play a critical role in helping with a student’s adjustment to college, their first-year experience and the development of their academic career. Your continued support will help your son or daughter become a confident and independent college student with the ability to solve problems, negotiate relationships, and achieve personal goals. This resource is intended to introduce parents to the campus and support services available to guide your student through the college experience.

At Oklahoma City University, we encourage your student to assume the role of transacting his or her own personal, financial and academic business with the university. Parents are valued and encouraged to stay informed about campus life by visiting the OCU website and reading the e-newsletter sent monthly during the academic year.
Parent Services

Parent & Family Services offers an array of services designed to connect parents with the campus community. E-newsletters are sent to parents of undergraduate students each semester and informative emails are provided during the summer months to parents of new students. You are invited to visit campus for Mom’s Day in December and Dad’s Day in April. For more information, visit www.okcu.edu/parents.

Dean of Students

The Dean of Students serves as a resource for students who are experiencing personal or academic difficulties and in the event of family or health emergencies. The Dean also administers student discipline procedures as prescribed by the Student Code of Conduct, which can be found at www.okcu.edu/students/resources.aspx. As a private, United Methodist institution, Oklahoma City University students are held to a high standard of behavior and are expected to be productive and civil members of the academic community.

Residence Life

Oklahoma City University provides distinctive living and learning communities for undergraduates where students find both private time and numerous opportunities to get connected to campus activities — and build their own home away from home.

OCU offers both coed and same-gender facilities. All students living on campus are required to purchase a meal plan. Many OCU women reside in the seven-story, 245-bed Walker Hall. Banning Hall is the Honors Program co-ed residence hall. Smith Hall houses men. Oklahoma United Methodist Hall, a 359-bed apartment style-residence hall with private rooms, was completed in the fall of 2007. All of OCU’s residence halls feature high-speed Internet, laundry facilities, and flat-screen televisions.

Cokesbury Court Apartments are available to OCU upperclassmen and non-traditional students. Located on the western side of the OCU campus, Cokesbury Court is a gated community that provides students with an opportunity to live on campus but in an apartment setting. The apartments come with full kitchens, including a stove, a dishwasher, a refrigerator, and full-sized bathrooms. All residents have their own bedrooms. A clubhouse in the middle of the grounds provides a laundry room, in addition to a commons area where students can relax or study. Outside of the clubhouse, a pool provides an easy way to cool off after a long day of class. For more information, visit www.okcu.edu/students/reslife.

OCU dining services

Oklahoma City University strives to provide students with quality fresh foods at every meal. We believe in listening to students and we actively practice sustainability. We provide health and wellness programs so your student can make smart dining choices. OCU opened the first known raw vegan concept in a college or university cafeteria in the United States on October 25, 2010.

"Our mission is to build a body of engaged student leaders who, upon graduation, will continue to be involved in fostering the success of Oklahoma City University and the OCU Alumni Association."
Choosing a university is one of the most important decisions a student will make. Students are encouraged to apply for and complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). This can be done online by going to www.fafsa.ed.gov. Completing this form will determine eligibility to receive both federal and state grants and federally guaranteed student loans. Students should apply for the FAFSA as soon after January 1st as possible, because those programs with limited funding go fast!

State grants require students to apply by March 1, so apply early. Students can review their financial aid status by logging on through the student portal Blue Link. All online forms can be found at www.okcu.edu/financialaid/forms.

Newly admitted students will receive login instructions for Blue Link from the Admissions office. Notifications concerning financial aid will come to the student’s email account. Encourage your student to check email regularly and stay in touch with their financial aid counselor throughout their academic career.

Verification of Information: When completing the FAFSA, the most efficient and accurate process available to the student and parent is to use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool. It will allow the FAFSA to use IRS Records to complete the income and tax information. The IRS Data Retrieval Process provides students and parents the most secure and efficient way to save time and eliminate discrepancies when completing the FAFSA. Note: Students’ and parents’ tax returns must be completed and filed for this to be effective. If completing the FAFSA prior to filing a tax return, students can log back into the FAFSA to use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool after the IRS has processed the tax return.

If the parent/student does not use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool, when a student is selected for verification we are no longer permitted to accept copies of tax returns to complete the verification process. The student and parents will be REQUIRED to request and submit a Tax Return Transcript from the IRS; the Financial Aid Office cannot do this on your behalf. If a Tax Return Transcript is required, it could delay the student’s financial aid award for the summer and possibly the fall.

Incoming first time freshmen are awarded scholarships based on their high school GPA and ACT/SAT scores. In addition, students may receive additional scholarships based on talent, athletics, or specific scholarship programs. Many of our academic and departmental scholarships are funded through university endowments that are funded by our donors. If a scholarship is funded by an endowment, the student is encouraged to send a note of gratitude to the donor and provide information about their academic goals and future plans. This is a small way students may show appreciation for the tremendous support that donors provide to Oklahoma City University.

In addition to university scholarships, students are encouraged to look for external scholarships. The Office of Student Financial Services is here to serve students. Incoming freshmen are assigned a financial aid counselor that will assist them throughout the process. Following their first year, they will be assigned to their financial aid counselor that will stay with them through graduation. For more information, visit www.okcu.edu/financialaid.

Student Accounts assist students with a variety of services. The purpose is to provide quality service to OCU students by helping them with their student accounts, offering cashiering services, issuing OCU Student ID Cards and Parking Permits, and ensuring that any financial aid that has been awarded and accepted is accurately reflected on a student’s account.

Payment for each semester is due in full by the first date of class as published in the OCU official academic calendar. An installment plan is available that offers 4 payments in the fall and spring semesters. Enrollment in installment plans may be done online by signing into your student’s account. Students can make online payments, enroll in the installment plan for the semester, and authorize parents to be able to see and pay your student’s account. OCU will send out billing statements to newly enrolled students prior to their first semester. After that time students will receive billing notifications through their OCU student email ONLY. All refunds from student accounts are done by direct deposit only. For more information, visit www.okcu.edu/financialaid.

Student Employment

Student employment at Oklahoma City University is open to all students, without regard to whether they are eligible to receive federal work-study. Students are given the opportunity to contribute to their education funds while learning skills that will benefit them in the classroom and beyond. Employers benefit from students’ talents, insight and enthusiasm. The objectives of the Student Employment Office are to provide standardized practices and procedures for Student Employment; to provide a centralized information system for student employment opportunities; to enhance the awareness of student employment; to provide learning opportunities; and to increase the number, variety, and quality of on- and off-campus employment opportunities. For more information, visit www.okcu.edu/financialaid/studentemployment.

OCU Police Department

The Oklahoma City University Police Department is devoted to providing the campus community with emergency and non-emergency services in a timely and efficient manner. The OCUPD is proactive in identifying and curtailing criminal activity and safety concerns. The OCU Police Department maintains 24/7 service to provide a safe learning environment and conducts active patrols for a crime-free campus. The OCU Police Department employs 12 full-time CLEET-certified police officers. Safety escorts are available to the campus community around the clock. Additionally, students can call the OCUPD if they need a battery jumpstart, lock keys inside their vehicle or need help changing a flat tire. For more information, visit www.okcu.edu/financialaid/studentemployment.

Campus Safety and Communications

While a college campus is one of the safest places to live, work and study, Oklahoma City University is committed to the highest level of safety and preparedness by employing the latest communication and surveillance technology; providing training to staff, faculty and students; implementing emergency drills and simulations; and employing a 24/7 professional police force.

Emergency Blue Telephones - Eighteen blue emergency telephones are located across campus. Emergency telephones provide three important functions: an emergency button which alerts campus police of the location where the button was pushed; information button which connects to the University Switchboard during business hours; and an audible public address speaker to notify the external campus of an emergency and provide necessary instructions.
Blue Alert Emergency Event Notification System - Blue Alert is OCU’s method of alerting the campus community in the event of disaster, weather emergency, terrorist attack, etc. The system uses both email and text messaging to broadcast the alert. The system is only used for emergency announcements and not for day to day information dissemination.
